Problem

retro fit 2 shaver sockets
matt asked for a price to retro fit two shaver sockets into the unit.
One in the cupboard in the main bathroom and the other in the en-suite. Matt doesn't think that there is a cupboard in the en-suite, so it might need to go into the wall.

Hiya,

This unit will be collected and delivered into site over the next couple of weeks, most probably w/c 16th. The Retro work is to be carried out on site please. Matt wants this done ASAP once it is on site.

Thanks guys.

Kindest Regards,

Hi

Matt has sold a factory fresh Margaux 38x12 3 bed to Ladram Bay. (we don't have a stock or serial number yet) and he asked for a price to retro fit two shaver sockets into the unit.

One in the cupboard in the main bathroom and the other in the en-suite. Matt doesn't think that there is a cupboard in the en-suite, so it might need to go into the wall.

Thanks

Hi Paul

Apologies for the delay, So swift may be able to offer this as they do already have shaver sockets in bathroom cupboards in the Whistler lodge. However I'm not going to be able to find out 100% until next week unfortunately Regarding a cost, from factory during the build, they offer this option at £ 47.25 but id allow £150 just in case we need to retrofit this in.

Hope this is ok

Kind Regards
